FAQ

I forgot my user name or password

If you can't remember your login information, click on the Forgot your user name or password? link and enter the email address you used when creating your account. You will be sent an email that contains your user name and password.

Nothing happens when I click on Sign In

If this happens, try adding these two URLs to your browser's list of trusted websites:

- The URL of the website you are signing in from.
- The URL of the website you are redirected to once you have entered your login information.
